

FALLING PIANO KILLS CHILD IN NURSERY

Instrument Partly Propped by Block
Topples on Boy Said to Have Been Climbing.

An upright piano in St. Mary's Day Nursery, No. 23 St. Mark's Place, toppled over and fell on eight-year-old Peter Mandola of No. 261 East 10th Street yesterday, fracturing his skull and killing him.

The boy was waiting in the nursery for his mother, Mrs. John Mandola, who works during the day. He was accustomed to wait for her there from 3 to 6 o'clock every day, going there immediately after his school session ended.

Other children who were in the room said Peter was pulling himself by his arms to the top edge of the piano when it fell. Investigation showed that a block of wood that had been put under a corner in place of a missing caster had become displaced.

Mrs. Sarah Curry, head of the nursery, injured her back trying to lift the piano from the boy's body.

Police Air Force Gets West 23d Street Pier.

Dock Commissioner Hulbert. It was announced yesterday, has turned over to the Police Air Force the pier at West 23d Street. The pier will be formally given to the police to-morrow afternoon, with addresses by Mayor Hylan, President La Guardia of the Board of Aldermen and other officials. Flights will be made during the ceremonies by one dirigible, five seaplanes and fourteen army planes.

Coffee without waste

Steaming—aromatic—creamy coffee without any grounds or any variation in its excellence due to cooking.

Borden's Coffee condensed with Milk and Sugar eliminates all the difficulties of making just enough and not too much. You can make each cup to suit the individual. Strong or mild—simply add a different amount of boiling water and your coffee is made to suit.

Blended coffee, fresh country milk and sugar condensed into one economical can with the Borden guarantee of purity. Try it once—it will mean coffee satisfaction.

The selection of a wedding ring is easy. It is not so easy to choose a diamond ring, but the comparison of stones in arriving at a choice is a fascinating diversion. Whether large or small, the diamond engagement ring must have a good diamond. In selecting a fancy set ring, the quality of the diamonds, the kind of metal used in the mounting and the design of the ring are all considerations of importance. Lambert Brothers will help you decide.
